Over the last 26 years, Merritt Hawkins has developed a unique, consultative and resource based approach to physician recruiting that we tailor to meet the needs of each client. In the following client assessment, Scott McFarland, CEO of Miners Family Health in Grass Valley, California comments on how Merritt Hawkins addressed the specific needs of his facility.

“We have partnered with Merritt Hawkins on several search assignments, including family medicine and nurse practitioner searches, and they have successfully placed three providers on our behalf.”

“Ours is a rural area with a very small candidate pool to choose from, making these challenging search assignments.”

“Merritt Hawkins has been an effective recruiting partner, in particular by successfully adapting their search process to fit our needs.”

“I would point to their consultants’ follow-through and their commitment to our recruitment efforts as areas of particular strength.”

“We have worked with one other physician search firm in the past and our experience with Merritt Hawkins was superior to our first experience.”

“With this in mind, I would both recommend Merritt Hawkins to others and use their services again.”
