Merritt Hawkins is proud to be a preferred permanent physician staffing vendor for the National Association of Community Health Centers (NACHC) through its Value in Staffing Program, and to work with CHCs nationwide. In the following client assessment, Colonel Hartley, CEO of Community Health of South Florida, explains how Merritt Hawkins assisted his facility with a family physician recruiting need.

“Our community health center was in need of a Family Physician after losing a physician due to family medical reasons.”

“We were unable to recruit locally and so partnered with Merritt Hawkins. Their response to our needs was immediate. Merritt Hawkins’ consultants showed great understanding of the physician market available to a NACHC facility.”

“In assessing the firm’s strength, I would rate as number one their in-depth experience in our area. Other assets include their national resources, their research and data, and the ability to contact candidates.”

“Based on our experience, I would recommend Merritt Hawkins to others and work with them again.”
