Merritt Hawkins is distinguished from other firms in our field by our extensive experience and resources, but we believe it is the commitment and drive of our people that allows us to consistently succeed for our clients. In the following client assessment, Dana Engle, CEO with Rocking Horse Community Health Center in Springfield, Ohio, draws a distinction between Merritt Hawkins and other search firms with which he has worked.

“We partnered with Merritt Hawkins on search for family practice and internal medicine.”

“These searches were particularly challenging because we are 45 minutes away from a larger city, making it difficult to attract physicians.”

“In rating Merritt Hawkins as a partner, I would say they are the best physician search firm I have worked with. They have quality individuals leading the search process and are very professional.”

“Among the firm’s strengths is timely communication, excellent research and sourcing capacity, attention to detail and a focus on quality.”

“I have worked with other search firm, and my experience with Merritt Hawkins was better because they put more effort into making sure the search is successful. They are very driven to achieve results.”

“I would recommend Merritt Hawkins to others and would use the firm again.”
